Sentences

Sight words:

Are The You To Of Put Is I

Teacher: “The” is pronounced “thuh” before a consonant, and as “thee” before a vowel. Contrast “the pig” (“thuh pig”) with “the ants” (“thee ants”).

Usually a period ends a sentence, but a question mark makes a sentence a question, and an exclamation mark makes a sentence exciting.

Greg ran to Dad and sat on his lap.

Ben put the pot on top of the mat.

Ned did pet the pup.

Put the cat and the hen on the bed.

Did Dad and Mom get gum? Yes, Mom and Dad got gum!

The pig had on the wig.

The sun is hot!

The cat is in the tub and got wet. Get a rag!

The van has a lot of gas.

Are you still in bed?

Can you hum?

The hat has fuzz on it.

The man lost his job.

The bun fell in the mud.

I had fun in the sun!

For Fun

Which word in each of the groups below doesn't rhyme?

pig wig fun fig

hen wet pen den

pot hot lot set

What words can you think of that rhyme with each of the following?

lot

bed

pin

fat

C K CK QU

cut	kit	cat	kick
duck	dick	deck	dock
lick	lack	lock	luck
quack	quick	rock	rack
back	beck	pork	pock
peck	tick	tock	tuck
tack	quest	quiz	quick

Rick	buck	quit	jock
Jack	pack	peck	pock
puck	mock	muck	Mick
mac	sac	sack	truck
trick	track	quiz	neck
nick	wick	quack	quick
quill	can	kin	yuck
black	brick	crick	cluck
slack	lock	luck	lick
cat	kid	quiz	cup
Jack	peck	pick	pack

Teacher: C, K, and CK can often sound alike. QU sounds like K+W.

SH TH CH WH

this	that	thus	wish
wash	chop	chip	chap
thin	thick	when	whim
gush	mush	lush	such
chin	chick	chuck	that
chum	chump	chimp	champ

hack	hick	hock	heck
mock	muck	much	such
whack	cash	sash	them
shut	shall	with	hath

Reading

Sight words:

Me My Your Her He She
Her We Have Was They

The pig had lunch with the chick.

The thick chop is hot. It can pack a punch.

When I am hot, I sit on the deck.

The duck did quack.

Did you check the grits?

Ben lost his socks.

I had fish and chips for a buck.

He was sick. He had a chill. His Mom did check him.

Did you swim with the duck? Was it fun?

She had bad luck and lost.

They are my best chums.

The black clock did tick. Tick-tock went the clock.

Long Vowels and Silent E

Teacher: Adding an E to the end of short words can change the sound of the preceding vowel, making it long. The E is bossy, but silent. It makes the preceding vowel say its own name, but doesn't make a sound itself. Don't pronounce the E, just change the sound of the vowel that comes before. The new sound of the vowel will sound just the way you learned them when you learned the alphabet.

hop	-->	hope	tun	-->	tune
pop	-->	pope	fin	-->	fine
mat	-->	mate	cap	-->	cape
hat	-->	hate	mop	-->	mope
con	-->	cone	pat	-->	pate
Sam	-->	same	pan	-->	pane
tap	-->	tape	cop	-->	cope cod	-->	code	pin	-->	pine cut	-->	cute	rip	-->	ripe
sin	-->	sine	pet	-->	Pete
not	-->	note	nod	-->	node

Teacher: If you see a word with an E at the end of a short word, the vowel that comes before will almost always say its own name.

Long A and Silent E

made	shade	quake	flake
stale	pale	chase	base
sale	rate	mate	cave
date	crate	game	same
grave	slave	shave	shake
share	spade	chase	wave
snake	blame	Jane	rake
take	cake	wake	Nate
dame	Dave	Jake	wake
tape	bane	name	fame
plate	came	trade	plane
pave	daze	maze	whale
sane	shale	dale	tale
vane	pane	chafe	state
sake	bake	gate	lame
gale	pate	late	fate
make	sake	lake	take
drake	brake	Dane	mane
lane	date	skate	slate
brave	cane	crane	gaze

Long O and Silent E

smoke	choke	cone	tone
bone	mode	rode	wode
lode	woke	spoke	rote
froze	rose	stove	poke
drove	stole	stone	globe
hope	rope	broke	dope
vote	coke	mote	joke
robe	pone	pote	sole
pole	tone	hole	grove
home	bloke	stole	poke
sole	scone	scope	score
quote	lone	spoke	lope
nope	cope	note	rote

Teacher: "Gone," "done," and "some" are willful and won't change their vowel sounds for the bossy Silent E. Teach them as sight words:

Gone Done Some Come

He is gone, but he left a note.

Are you done with that? If you are, I will have some.

Some have gone; some are still with us.

Long I and Silent E

tripe	bike	like	mike
pike	pile	while	wine
twine	fine	fire	dine
dire	quite	slide	pride
glide	white	dime	wide
spite	shine	pipe	lime
time	rime	tire	wife
life	strife	Mike	trike
smile	jive	drive	hide
bride	rile	tile	crime
hike	dike	spine	swine
kine	mine	line	rime
grime	slime	ripe	rite
wide	smile	five	bite

Teacher: Some words don't follow this rule. Teach these words to your children so they know them by sight. "Live" below is a conjugation of the verb "to live," as in "I live here.":

live give olive

Long U and Silent E

cube	cute	Luke	pure
tube	fluke	tune	brute
prune	crude	rude	dude
muse	fuse	duke	June
lute	mule	cure	flute
rule	ruse	cure	use
puke	rune	mute	amuse

Teacher: Sometimes a long U sounds like a long “oo,” and sometimes it sounds like “you.”

Sentences

Matt did chase his dog. The dog was quick and fell in the well.

The frog sat next to the pond. It swam and swam to get to the duck. The frog and duck are chums.

Did your Dad pave the drive?

My Mom did bake a cake. It had dates in it. We ate it up.

The cat is lame and sick. He can not chase the pup.

In the shade it is not so hot.

Sight Word Review (and a few new ones)

to	now later once
of	before after
for	I me my mine

Teacher: Use the above words in sentences, pointing out the words on the page as you speak them.

Long EE and EA

feet	meet	greet	cheat
steal	wheel	week	beam
beat	deep	clean	cleat
sheep	three	reach	cheat
steam	tree	speech	queen
preach	seed	bees	peach
tea	eat	seam	seem
heat	free	bead	deed
speed	squeak	queer	sweep
teach	reach	leech	leach weep	meat	weak	seek
green	sheet	feed	wheat
seal	each	wheat	reap
beach	zeal	beak	teak
need	weed	freed	greed
dream	deep	seep	heap
feel	reel	real	teal
weal	bleak	bleat	heat
sweet	neat	teat	bleach
leap	seer	sear	ear
mEEK	squeal	mean	cheek
treat	squeak	beet	cream

Teacher: When two vowels are together, the first one almost always speaks its name.

Teacher: Homonyms are words that sound alike but have different meanings. Teach the differences between the words in these word pairs:

steal steel

seam seem meat meet

weak week

team teem

cheap cheep

knead need

feat feet

sea see

beat beet

Teacher: Ask if your children can think of any other homonyms that don't necessarily involve EE and EA. They might not yet know about various spellings, but they can understand the different meanings of words that sound the same – ex. by and buy; plain and plane; break and brake; no and know; sore and soar, fir and fur; flour and flower; him and hymn; hole and whole; I and eye; sun and son, etc.

Read the following sentences out loud and ask the child to identify which is the correct word each sentence.

The building is made of steel / steal.

The thief did steal / steel the money.

It does seem / seam to be the case.

The seam / seem on her jeans came loose.

I can sea / see that.

We went on a vacation by the see / sea.

We had meat / meet for dinner.

I did not meat / meet her.

Last week / weak, he was too week / weak to finish the race.

When it comes to vegetables, you can not beat / beet beat / beets.

It was no great feet / feat.

My shoes hurt my feet / feat.

The baby chicken said “cheep / cheap”!

The gift wasn't a cheep / cheap one.

My baseball team / teem came in first.

The pond did team / teem with life.

AI (as in sail) and AY (as in day)

grain	day	pray	brain
drain	way	mail	hail
wain	stay	wail	hay

Cain	ray	tray	rain
dray	play	pray	fray
plain	sail	frail	pain
bait	laid	paid	say
lain	shale	dale	tale
stain	stair	may	way

Cain did slay his brother.

Did the maid have a tray?

The man was sick and frail.

I will pray each day.

The snail left a trail of slime.

The rain in Spain falls on the plain.

May I eat some beets? Yes, you may.

harm	march	smart	art
park	part	bar	start
card	are	March	jar
spar	mark	bark	yard
harp	tarp	lard	shard
stark	shark	charm	marsh
scarf	scar	Sparta	Carl

Teacher: Rs can be as bossy as silent Es. When a vowel goes before an R, the R will sometimes make it change the way it sounds.

Mark had a scarf on the march

Park the car in the yard.

There is lard in the jar.

Do not play cards with a card sharp.

The shark will not bite the dog.

You will see a star when it is dark.

Bossy R with O

born	corn	torn	short

wore	bore	dork	store
spore	chore	shore	cord
scorn	lore	more	ford
storm	morn	sort	tort
fork	sore	pore	tore
torn	scorch	torch	horde

The sheep was shorn.

Do not let the torch scorch the fort.

The corn is from the farm up north.

There will be a storm in the morn.

Let us stay here so we can see the shore.

We need more sports!

Bossy R with E, I, and U

fur	thirst	burr	dirt
spur	herd	perk	jerk
lurk	her	furl	squirt
firm	bird	surf	turf
utter	udder	prayer	runner
supper	river	boxer	otter

Teacher: When a W comes before OR, it often makes the same sound as ER, IR, and UR. Teach these words:

word
worm worth
worse
worst
world
work

Review So Far

Practicing Common Word Endings

-ct -ft -lb -ld -lf -lk -lm -lp -mp

-nd -nk -nt -pt -sk -sp -st

tamp	junk	lend	rust
bump	kept	gift	rest
trust	fast	sink	desk
west	hump	limp	chimp
trunk	champ	melt	silk
milk	felt	just	ink
chunk	belt	bulb	sunk
bond	band	land	left
fold	last	lost	damp
dump	mist	must	cold

mink	help	tank	rant

CH TCH

champ	much	pitch	which
witch	chum	check	ranch
branch	itch	chill	much
rich	bench	wench	chimp
chunk	batch	watch	latch
chin	patch	ditch	pitch
catch	hatch	hitch	choke
chip	chat	pinch	lunch
wench	chick	chuck	stanch
match	much	such	quench
porch	torch	chop	chest
etch	sketch	chum	chap

Teacher: CH comes at the beginning of words or after a consonant. TCH comes at the end of a word after a vowel (with a few exceptions: e.g., rich, which, much, such, each)

We went to the lake and got perch. Then we went to the store and got corn and pork chops.

At the park, we had a game with Mark and Jane. It was such fun! But then Mark left.

When the queen came, she gave us gold.

I fell on a patch of rocks in the marsh and got a bad scar on my chin.

Adding -ING

kiss	kissing	sleep	sleeping dump	dumping	eat	eating branch	branching	chill	chilling hand handed

wish wished

mark marked

bake baked

cook cooked

sand sanded

fix fixed jump jumped blame blamed

leap leaped

purr purred

chomp chomped

hiss hissed

plant planted

Rules about adding –ED and –ING

If a word ends in a single vowel with a single consonant following, double the consonant and add the ED or ING.:

jump --> jumped --> jumping help --> helped --> helping bunt --> bunted --> bunting bang --> banged --> banging

BUT

top --> topped --> topping rot --> rotted --> rotting mop --> mopped --> mopping drag --> dragged --> dragging

If a word ends in a silent E, drop the E and add the ED or ING:

hop --> hopped --> hopping tap --> tapped --> tapping
mop --> mopped --> mopping mat --> matted --> matting

hope --> hoped --> hoping tape --> taped --> taping mope --> moped --> moping mate --> mated --> mating

Add the ED and ING endings to these words:

end
growl
vet leap sneak pelt
lop
bet
shuck creak
map wish purr
bark

Mom came home and tossed her handbag on the bed.

I was playing in the yard when a big storm came. I ran and hid in the barn.

The man played the bagpipes on the stairway.

We ate corndogs, popcorn, and cupcakes at the campfire. Then we sang songs.

When we woke up in the morning, we had pancakes.

I tripped on the bathmat in the bathroom.

A blackbird is singing next to my bedroom.

The girl on the rowboat waved at us. She had curls in her hair.

The coach told the men to run faster.

The snowman melted in the Spring.

The girl had a lot of homework to do, so she left.

I went up the hillside and sat to read.

Tom watched the dog eat the doormat. Bad dog! Bad Tom!

Mildew grew in the shower stall.

There are such good things to see in the world that God has made! In the woods, we can see big green trees and flowers. In the sea, we can see shrimp, clams, crabs, lobster, and fish like cod and perch -- all of which can be good foods for us to eat. Think of the power of God to make all such things! He is so good to us!

Changing –Y Words

Teacher: When a noun ends in Y, drop the Y and add IES to make it plural.

party --> parties
lady --> ladies
mommy --> mommies
daddy --> daddies
baby --> babies
puppy --> puppies
kitty --> kitties
bunny --> bunnies
fairy --> fairies
jury --> juries
berry --> berries

When a verb ends in Y, drop the Y and add – IES or –IED to change the tense.

carry --> carries --> carried hurry --> hurries --> hurried tarry --> tarries --> tarried marry --> marries --> married bury --> buries --> buried scurry --> scurries --> scurried study --> studies --> studied empty --> empties --> empties worry --> worries --> worried

Generally, when an adjective ends in Y, add – IER or – IEST to describe magnitude. Generally speaking, drop the Y and add – ILY to make an adverb (a word that describes how something is done).

funny --> funnier --> funniest --> funnily happy --> happier --> happiest --> happily sleepy --> sleepier --> sleepest --> sleepily cozy --> cozier --> coziest --> cozily speedy --> speedier --> speediest --> speedily sunny --> sunnier --> sunniest fussy --> fussier --> fussiest goofy --> goofier --> goofiest

When Paul married Mary, she became his bride. The bride and groom loved each other very much. They still do today, and are very happy together. He is seventy years old, and she is sixty years old.

My Mom is happiest when she can do her daily crossword puzzle.

What is the funniest joke you know? What about the hardest riddle?

Teachers: Review sight words on pages 18 and 42.

Proper use of pronouns

Subject pronoun	Objective pronoun	Possessive adjective	Possessive pronoun	Reflexive pronoun
I	me	my	mine	myself
you	you	your	yours	yourself yourselves
he	him	his	his	himself
she	her	her	hers	herself
it	it	its	its	itself
one	one	one's	one's	oneself
we	us	our	ours	ourselves
they	them	their	theirs	themselves

Reflexive pronouns are used when the subject and object of the sentence are the same -- i.e., the actor and the recipient of the action are the same. If Bob buys himself a book, he would say "I bought myself a book." If Ted buys a book for Bob, Bob would say "Ted bought me a book." If Alice were to buy a book for Ted and Bob, Ted would say "Alice bought a book for Bob and me." He would not say "Alice bought a book for Ted and myself" because Alice and Ted are not the same person.

It doesn't matter how many people are mentioned in the sentence: use reflexive pronouns reflexively only.

Wrong: He gave her and I a dog.

Right: He gave her and me a dog. (Or, better, he gave us a dog)

Remove "her" from the sentence. Would you ever say "He gave I a dog"?

Wrong: John and myself went to lunch.

Right: John and I went to lunch.

Take John out of the sentence. Would you ever say "Myself went to lunch"?

Wrong: She got a call from from John and myself.

Right: She got a call from John and me.

Remove John from the sentence and see how it reads. Would you ever say "She got a call from myself"?

Showing Possession

To show possession, add an apostrophe and an S:

- This book belongs to Mary. It is Mary's book.
- Whose is this? It is Steve's.
- Is this Terry's television? Yes, it is his.
- This tape belongs to the boss, right? Yes, it is the boss's tape.
- This is Mr. Jones's coat.
- Does this dog belong to Wills? Yes, it is Wills's dog.
- These toys belong to the kid. These are the kid's toys.
- These belong to the children. These are the children's toys.
- This is the wool of those sheep. This is the sheep's wool.

If the word is plural and ends in an S, just add the apostrophe:

- This tape belongs to the two bosses? Yes, it is the bosses' tape.
- This house belongs to Joe and Ann Smith. It is the Smiths' house.
- These coats belong to the two Jones families. These are the Joneses' coats.
- These toys belong to the kids. These are the kids' toys.
- Who has the three cats' catnip?

About Contractions

When we speak and write, we sometimes leave out or shorten certain sounds. The shortened construction is called a “contraction.” Ex.:

I am --> I'm you are --> you're he is --> he's she is --> she's it is --> it's we are --> we're they are --> they're

To indicate not, use n't. Think of it as adding the word “not” to the verb, and then replacing the O with an apostrophe:

you are not --> you aren't he is not --> he isn't she is not --> she isn't it is not --> it isn't

Add 'll to indicate “will”:

I will --> I'll you will --> you'll he will --> he'll she will --> she'll it will --> it'll
we will --> we'll they will --> they'll

Add 'd to indicate “would”:

I would --> I'd you would --> you'd he would --> he'd

she would --> she'd it would --> it'd
we would --> we'd
you would --> you'd

Add n't to verbs such as could, would, should, have, and might to conjugations of "to be:

could not --> couldn't would not --> wouldn't should not --> shouldn't have not --> haven't are not --> aren't was not --> wasn't were not --> weren't might not --> mightn't

Add 've to could, would, should, and might:

could have --> could've should have --> should've would have --> would've might have --> might've

Finally:

let us --> let's

How to Properly Use a Few Tricky Words

there their they're your you're

it's its

(“it's” always means “it is.” It never means “belonging to it.”)

They're over there. And they've brought their computer.

You're sure you brought your book?

It's funny how it's true that every dog has its day.

They already ate their lunch there. If you haven't already eaten, you're welcome to eat your lunch with me.

Which word in parentheses would go in the following sentences:

Where is the dog? He's over _____ (there, their, they're).

Do you have _____ coat? (your, you're)

I don't know how _____ done. (it's, its)

They sang _____ new song. (there, their, they're) _____ pretty crazy, but I like them. (there, their, they're)

Did they leave _____ their jackets behind? (there, their, they're)

_____ right! I was wrong. (your, you're)

Reading:

Welcome to the party! I'm so glad you're here We'll be having dinner in a few hours. We're having steak! Here, let me take your coats, and then let's go into the living room where we're playing a game. You've never played it before? You're going to love it! Don't worry; I'll teach you! Here, you sit over there. John and Greg'll be taking their turn now. See them there? They're good at this game, so watch out!
